About

The rapidly advancing Directors & Officers (D&O) Liability, Professional Indemnity (PI) also commonly known as errors and omissions and Cyber risks landscape can often times be confusing, making it difficult for organisations to understand their exposures and the necessary risk mitigation techniques. As corporate leaders pursue new technological tools to make their organisations more automated, responsive and profitable, they have increased their reliance on big data, cloud computing, and mobile networks exposing their organisations to a growing number of risks. Our event will provide insights to help you understand the evolving D&O liability, PI Liability and cyber risks trends.

You will gain a further understanding of exposures associated with D&O liability, PI and cyber events that could cripple companies, industries and critical infrastructures and learn best practices to help develop consistent guidelines and primary risk mitigation measures.

Our speaker will provide insights into the above mentioned three main topics facing SMEs, large corporations and government institutions. Topics will include:

D&O Liability Risks – Are private limited companies immune from such exposures?

- Effect of Companies Act
